Subject: Update on HUCTW Negotiations

To all HUCTW members,

Negotiations are ongoing for a new HUCTW-Harvard Agreement. At a Central Table and at eight issue-based Side Tables, Union and University negotiators are meeting every week, reviewing research, developing ideas, discussing and persuading. Side Table meetings are expected to continue through February and into early March. In March, the Central Table will begin integrating Side Table recommendations and negotiating about important economic issues.

The HUCTW website has a new section with information about negotiations, including a list of Side Table subjects and participants. Perhaps most interesting there is a report on the themes and ideas from 75 union meetings about negotiations in the fall. Please visit the Negotiations 2007 section, and check back for updates, at http://www.huctw.org/negotiations/negotiations\_top.htm

HUCTW will host another round of lunchtime meetings in late February and March, in all parts of the campus, to discuss the important negotiation issues in more detail and hear members' ideas. Please watch for messages and flyers about a meeting in your area in the next few weeks, and please take part. You can also call the HUCTW office and ask to speak to the organizer for your area to find out about local meetings.
