Harvard Sustainability Celebration

Harvard University and HUCTW are taking a stand on awareness of our environmental impact and opposing global climate change. The University has recently made a pledge to reduce its greenhouse gas emissions and has announced a fun and informative event on Wednesday, October 22. In addition, HUCTW has created a Green Group to get our members environmentally involved in their work areas and to help reduce the University's carbon footprint.

Harvard Sustainability Celebration
Wednesday, October 22, 2008 from 3-5pm
Tercentenary Theater, Harvard Yard
Keynote Speaker: Al Gore

We encourage all HUCTW members to attend this event. The festivities will start at 3:00 pm and will include different booths representing the various environmental groups on campus, a variety of refreshments and a limited supply of reusable water bottles to be given away. Your attendance is supported by the Office of the President, the Green Campus Initiative, and HUCTW. If you have any difficulty working out arrangements with your department, HUCTW reps would be happy to help you work those issues through. Please call the Union at 617-661-8289 with any questions.

Please Note: You will be required to show your Harvard ID to be admitted to the event..

HUCTW Green Group

HUCTW has started a Green Group open to all HUCTW members. We have been working in collaboration with the Green Campus Initiative. Our goals are to improve the environment of HUCTW members, to facilitate green conversations at Harvard and to work in partnership with pre-existing organizations and Green programs.

We would like to invite you to join us on the Green Group. If you are interested in participating in large ways or small, please contact Laura Ebenstein at laura.ebenstein@huctw.org . We hope to see you at the Sustainability Event on Wednesday, October 22!
